Higher standards ensure the greater value

CommScope network solutions work best when they are designed, installed, configured and supported by highly trained experts like our Partners. They're uniquely qualified to get your network up faster, help it run more efficiently and minimize expensive downtime.

Like you, our Partners see the value in our solutions, and they know how to deploy them with the same integrity and quality we put into their manufacture.

With the right people and the right solutions, you get more than just performance, efficiency and reliability from your network. You also get the peace of mind that comes from confidence in the expertise of the local, accountable provider and the reputation of the company that built the technology.

The right solution should be simple, complete and cost-effective

Growing network complexity and cost—both CapEx and OpEx—are pushing many businesses to consolidate their vendor lists. Even so, many providers employ solutions cobbled together from multiple manufacturers, which not only introduces uncertainty in performance, but also in who to talk to when there's a problem—and what kind of support you can expect once you do identify the manufacturer.

Since CommScope is a comprehensive solutions manufacturer, our PartnerPRO Network Partners are able to eliminate this uncertainty. You get a simple, complete solution from a globally-recognized and trusted leader in network technologies.

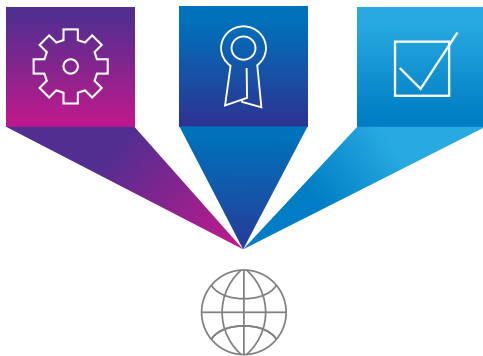

Thousands of partners worldwide—and we're adding more every day

Through CommScope's comprehensive training, certification and accreditation processes, thousands of Partners are available to deliver the right CommScope solution—so you'll always know who built your infrastructure.
